"AN open confession is good for the soul" was never more lucidly exemplified than was shown in Bro. Russell in the Signal last week. He's down upon his knees crying "We are not enemies, but friends!" So be it; we have little faith in his conversion, but hope that he'll stick.

THE Democrats of Paulding county assembled in convention at Paulding Saturday and selected the following ticket: Treasurer, N. G. Sauerwine; Prosecuting Attorney, R. W. Piekerling; Commissioner, H. E. Ropp; Surveyor, W. J. Johnston; Infirmary Director, F. C. Shaw; Coroner, Dr. Clark.

BYRON F. Ritchie has been renominated by acclamation for Congress in the 9th District. Mr. Ritchie has served one term in Congress with much distinction and for the best interests of the Toledo district he should be returned to Washington. He has done much in the way of shaping legislation to the advantage of his constituents, and withal is one of the brainy members of the lower house.

THE Cincinnati Southwest says: "One of the first effects of the new tariff, which the Republicans say was devised to reduce our wages to the standard of European pauper labor, was an advance of 50 cents per thousand, which the Cincinnati cigar makers realized without a strike. Cheaper raw material was their plea. The reduction in the rate of duty on Sumatra tobacco enabled the manufacturer to pay higher wages, and the laborers seem to have had but very little trouble in getting their full share of the advantage of the lower duty."

THE tunnel through under the canal into the river to admit the river water into the large cistern, is pretty well along already.—Signal

Bro. Russell, by your ignorance has caused many of your readers a waste of time, and has overrun Engineer Strawn with questions regarding the "large cistern." Then again, the Signal's saying "the large standpipe being constructed further up hill is assuming gigantic proportions," has put out of joint more neeks than one of the persons who have stood gazing upwards to see those "gigantic proportions!" The facts are there in plain English connected with the water-work plant, not even a little one, and there has scarcely been a beginning upon the foundation of the standpipe! Can it be that Bro. Russell is shifting from a moralist to a joker? His queer sayings certainly need explanation.

The Democratic State Convention held in Columbus last week was a remarkable gathering in more respects than one, being full of surprises, not only to the Democrats but Republicans as well.

The old timers gathered in such numbers as to strike astonishment, if not terror, to the Republicans, who had been prophesying for some days previous to the convention that the meeting could be held in a hack, so far as numbers were concerned. But when the faithful began gathering from the north and the south, and the east and the west parts of the state, they were prone to acknowledge that the convention was one of the largest and most enthusiastic in the history of the Democratic party.

Then the bold and clear tone of the platform of principles enunciated, not only took our enemies unawares, but was an eye-opener to the most timid of the rank and file of the Democratic party, upon whom the boldness of their chosen leaders acted as a balm of Gilead, giving them renewed strength and courage to continue the good fight, until Democratic principles prevail again and for ever more in this country.

It was a good convention, an excellent platform was made, and a splendid ticket nominated. It now behooves all Democrats to unite and give their party a cordial support.

In another column may be found some of the proceedings of the convention, the resolutions adopted and the excellent speech in full of the Hon. Frank Hurd, which deserves a careful reading by all.

IN the Sixth Congressional district, 100 Republicans have made oath that Congressman Hulick purchased his renomination. We will see whether the big Republican majority down here indorse that kind of thing.

BRO. RUSSELL is in high glee over the law placing the County Commissioners upon a salary of $1,000 per year each, and is actually slobbering all over our Democratic Representative, Hon. Frank Meyers, under whose supervision the law was passed. To a well balanced head, like that upon the shoulders of Mr. Meyers, this must be extremely obnoxious and disgusting.

But, let that be as it may, it has not been so long ago that Mr. Russell made something like the following remark to a reliable citizen of this county, in fact, to be exact in time, it was just a short while before he was a candidate for Auditor, that he used the language: "I would not hold the office of County Commissioner if I could get it, for there is not enough money in it for me, but if I could get the Auditor's office, that would do!"

The way Bro. Russell talks now and the way he talked some time ago don't jibe worth a cent. He is inconsistent, as he generally is.

The people very foolishly gave the editor of the Signal the Auditor's office, and he certainly found enough money in it, for he turned out to be the most expensive Auditor the county ever had. He covered his nest well, and the taxpayers paid for the feather.

No one is kicking over the salary given the Commissioners, not even the Commissioners themselves, but Bro. Russell is trying to leave that impression. - He is misleading his readers as usual.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly pilling to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to 50 drops. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They will cure one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

by the Patrons of Husbandry

OF PAULDING COUNTY, OHIO.

On March 19, 1892, Paulding county Pomona Grange, Patrons of Husbandry, a non-partisan organization, passed the following resolutions:

Resolved, That we, the members of Paulding County Pomona Grange, in regular session assembled, do hereby condemn the recent action of the Ohio legislature in adding to the burden of the taxpayers of Cuyahoga county by the passage of a law increasing the salaries of the judges from $4,000 to $5,000 per year. And we do especially condemn the action of the Representative from Paulding county, B. DeWitt, in supporting said measure, and we demand the immediate repeal of said law. J. H. GUSLER,
B. J. Gilbreck, Master.

Secretary.

It will be observed by the date that this resolution was not passed in the heat of a campaign for political effect. The farmers of Paulding county are familiar with this past of Mr. DeWitt's record, but he is at present asking the suffrages of them in several other counties, and we deem it only right to submit the matter to their consideration.

Mr. DeWitt's kind consideration of the tax-payer is also shown in his vote authorizing every school board in the state to buy Howe's Historical collection of Ohio at $9.00 cash per set, opening an avenue for the expenditure of $180,000 of the school fund. Open charges of bribery were made and never refuted in connection with this steal.

He also voted for the repeal of the barber salary law, a law placed on the statute books by the Democratic party at the request of the farmers of Ohio who believed in doing away with the old fee system and fixing county officials salaries within a certain limit.

There is not an intelligent voter in the country who does not know that the repeal of this law was brought about through the use of a corruption and contributed by public officials throughout the state and paid for votes at so much a head.

We make these charges from the official record of the house of representatives and they will not be refuted by the Republican organ in this county—its lips are sealed.

And this is only a beginning of his record. It is only any wonder then, that candidate with such a record would try to run a bluff on an opposing editor to keep him still about it on the equality of having to walk out of town? Early.—Paulding Democrat.

Visit to the Old Home After Being Absent 19 Years.

Once more am I permitted after long absence to sit down in the old homestead where first I saw the light of day, and where childhood and youth were happily yet in many instances thoughtlessly spent. The sun quietly setting in the west, its last yellow ray gilding the tree tops of the wood near by as it did in the past. What recollections of the past rush over me as I sit surrounded by the relics of the old home upon the hillside. Many things have faded and are decaying through the lapse of time. What wonderful changes have taken place here—changes that cast shadows over the path of life, the old yard where so many hours of boys and girls spent in youthful life is somewhat changed; the old walnut trees still remain but many other changes time has produced. There are left marks that bring back the thrill that they were still living once passed away and were forgotten. Associations, friendships, joys, tears, successes and reverses, all of which here had their birth and many marked their death, have passed away forever. Alas, the family tie is broken and they are still longed for. Assembled and spent many joyous years together, little suspecting the changes time would produce, at this time only one brother and the mother who is now 88 years old, occupy the old homestead. Other sons and daughters who are still living are scattered here and there, while some now sleep in the silent dust, having rarely been visited by many, and after which the Spring flowers have been blown and then quietly dropped in like mourning dust. Can you think of the old home with its graves and will return no more to brighten the old home, lighten the burdens and soothe the sorrows of life? No, no more forever. They have gone, and though they may visit in the sweet visions of the night, they are not here to cheer and brighten their long home. As I was near the old homestead and meeting with friends and associates, how my heart wandered back to childhood days. Oh, how fresh were the days of youth. I only spent a few days in a long conversation with friends and associates, which I enjoyed very much. In the enjoyment and pleasure of my visit I shared a grand feast of the old home, prepared by the father and children for the purpose of having a grand reunion to have all the old friends and friends meeting old friends. Oh what a pleasure in the memory of every person is the old home occupy. What mingled feelings of sadness and delight fill the mind at evening time in the cares of the day have been beside upon the mind is free to wander and find the old home. I choose to travel back and survey the path of childhood and youth and fancy take a seat once more in the old home and listen to voices now forever silenced, and look upon the surroundings there with a joy and nostalgic expression in my eyes. Those thoughts were fresh in my mind and can never be forgotten while memory is true. With all the surroundings and associations, with many happy cheerful faces, yet everything has gone. A change—the life marble in the grave yard marks the sleeping dead and dear friends and sisters who used to enter our family circle. Others are separated by many weary miles, perhaps far to meet again on earth. Mother, brother and sisters left us then all back up from this earthly home, so that, that has formed the green pastures the memory of the past, to that faithful abiding home up yonder touched by time, where God's people shall spend eternity together in spiritual thanksgiving to Him who has led us and bought us with His own blood upon the cross. Kindred, my dear friends, we are now and mine and we have passed from our earthly homes beyond the shadows of the life of death.

As we all around this family board,
These happy faces come and go;
To Mother's smiling face we look,
The human heart alone does know.

Imagination paints each face
As they appeared long years ago.
We see their smiles, we hear their words,
And tears around our faces flow.

As from this home one by one
Which, we have loved so dearly,
May we each have life's duties done,
With pleasure join the gathered dead.

We go away with noiseless feet,
No wonder feet be left to roam,
May each find heart with nature glow
As we repeat, "We're all at home."

CHECKS Some of the Signal's Political Capital in a Cocked Hat.

HAMLER, O., September 25, 1894.
D. NORTHWEST:—The editor of the Signal has for several weeks commented upon the action of late Republican County Convention in endorsing some of my as a member of the legislature; I have also seen fit to criticize the Democratic County Convention for endorsing me in the same matters. It is a matter of fact I was a member of the committee on resolutions at the Democratic County Convention; and I am one of the members of the committee suggested to me the propriety of endorsing me, I discouraged the proposition on the grounds that if a member of the committee endorsing would appear very much like self praise which is generally regarded as "half scandal." Regarding the passage of the bill giving salary for the commissioners Henry C. A. I will say that I was in the least influenced by prejudice or any ill will toward the commissioners, each of whom I helped to elect and shall help to elect once more. There was such a demand for a law on the part of the people regardless of politics that I could not fail to carry out their wishes. We have always been opposed to letter-writing, especially for the purpose of denunciation and the aggravation of crime. It may be grave indeed that can compel me to pursue this subject any further in this manner.

Respectfully,
J. F. MEYERS.
